THE BAT USED EFFECTIVELY

Getzein and Buffinton Hit Frequently, with Odds Favoring the Hoosiers.

In the Field, Too, the Playing Was Lively, All Tending to the Success of the Home Team-Other Games.

Those who like to see hard hitting and lively work on the part of the fielders ought to have been well pleased with the final game of the Philadelphia series at the League Park yesterday afternoon. As the classical Daniel O'Leary would say, it was "biff, bing, bang" from the start, and the Hoosiers closed their last inning with a great streak of batting. Considering the heavy batting, both teams did good work in the field, though Bassett's error was a Acostly one, while the three made by the visitors did but little harm. Sullivan's amisplay was a fumble of a long hit to the fence, which allowed the runner to advance a base, but no one scored on the error. Bassett's muff of a thrown ball really cost the three runs made by the visitors in the second inning, but he otherwise played well, as did every member of the team. Daily was on first base, and played a great game in that position. He made one stop of a high-thrown ball that caused much applause. Glasscock was at his best, as was Denny, while McGeachy made one remarkable catch. Sommers caught Getzein's delivery in fine style, and his stick work had a great deal to do with the success of the Hoosiers in the tenth inning. For the visitors, Clements did the best general work. Glasscock led at the bat for the home team, being closely followed by Denny, Seery and Sommers. Buffinton evidently had not forgotten his last appearance against the Hoosiers, when they knocked him out of the box, for he did not pitch with his usual confidence. He used drop as often as possible, but it did not deceive the local sluggers. They knocked the ball all over the field, as well as out of it. Sullivan was the only man who failed to find the ball successfully, though he hit it hard every time he came to bat. Wood made one great catch of a long fly that he took off the fence and robbed the center fielder of a two-baser.

The Philadelphia players also found Getzein's ball frequently, but he kept the hits well scattered in all but the ninth inning, tenth and won the game. As usual Seery led off with a single. Glasscock fouled out to Clements. Denny hit safe, as did Daily and Seery scored Hallman fumbled Sullivan's grounder and the bases were full. Sommers struck out, but Sullivan started for second and Denny for home, the latter, however, being caught and run down. In the second, after Mc-Geachy had been retired by Buffinton and Farrar, and Bassett had gone out on a fly to Thompson, Getzein made a hit, and went to third when Seery lined out a double. Glasscock hit safe and Getzein and Seery came home. The captain went to second on the throw-in and scored on Denny's single to left. No more runs were made by the home men until the sixth, when the Hoosiers added three to their score. McGeachy flew ont to Hallman, Bassett got first on balls and Getzein put the ball out of the reach of the fielders. Seery's short hit to the infield was thrown to Buffinton, who covered the base, but he muffed it, and the bases were full, when Glasscock drove the ball to the fence for two bases. Getzein and Basset scored and Seery went to third, from where he came home on Denny's long fly to Fogarty. Daily went out from Meyers to Farrar. The next three innings were blanks for the Hoosiers.

when he was hit for four singles, which,

with a sacrifice and an error, enabled the visitors to score three runs and tie the game. They made a desperate effort to bring in the winning tally, but failed, and it was a lucky thing for the

In the meantime the visitors had made four runs. In the second, after Mulvey had been retired on a fly to Bassett, Clements hit safe. Fogarty sent a grounder to Glasscock, who threw it to Bassett to catch Clements, but he muffed the ball, and the Philadelphia catcher went to third. Fogarty stole second and Farrar got first on balls. Then Buffinton put the ball against the fence, clearing the bases, though he only reached first, being too lame to run. A double by Thompson and a single by Fogarty accounts for the tally in the third. Thus the score stood seven to four when the visitors came to the bat in their half of the ninth. Wood led off with a hit and went to second on Sullivan's fumble. Hallman hit safe and Wood scored. Then a sacrifice advanced the other two men a base each. Mulvey struck out, but Clements cleared the bases with a hit to the fence, and the score was tied. Sommers was the first batter in the tenth, and after two strikes had been called on him he put the ball over the fence. This caused Buffiuton to weaken, and McGeachy and bassett followed with hits. Getzein made a fine sacrifice, advancing them, and Glasscock's two-bagger sent them home. Then Denny stepped up and put the ball over the fence. The next man was retired, and the visitors failed to get a man across the plate.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 17.-The Giants dropped their third straight game to the Pittsburgs to-day. It was even more exciting than yesterday's, and was full of wrangles. Welch was knocked out of the box in the fifth inning. Although O'Day was down on the score cards as extra man, after a long dispute Captain Hanlon allowed Keefe to go into the box. The latter did not do much better, as the home team played as though they intended to pound anybody. The home club went to pieces in the second inning, and allowed the Giants to take a lead of five runs. They pulled themselves together, however, after this, and they kept it up all the way through, and every time the Giants pulled up on them they went to work and took a greater lead. In the third inning, in trying to head Miller off at the plate, Ewing deliberately laid his mask on the plate, and Miller in kicking it away as he reached home safely cut his foot so badly that he had to

Special to the Indianapolis Journal UNION CITY, Ind., Aug. 17.-The Daytons, of the Tri-State League, came here yesterday with the expectation of wiping the earth with the local team, but were badly fooled in their mission. Had it not been for a slowlyfielded ball in right field the crack club from the Gem City would have been shut out. Following is the score:

Sullivan a Favorite. The signing of Edward Andrews, who will be here in the morning and make his first appearance with the Hoosiers in the game to-morrow afternoon, leaves no place in the outfield for Martin Sullivan. The latter has been a good man for the Hoosier team, having done faithful work, and is popular with the spectators. While Andrews is, no doubt, a better man in center. It is equally true that Sullivan is also a fine ball player, and just what to do with him is a matter that is bothering the management. He should not be released, at least for the present. The public is strongly in favor of his retention, and the feeling that he would be a good man on first base seems to be very general. He has played the position before and might fill the place in a satisfactory manner if given a trial. That he is a favorite with the base-ball patrons was shown yesterday, when he was applanded every time he came to the bat, though he had done nothing in the game to attract special attention. It seems to be the intention of the management to lay Hines off for a while, and if this is to be done it might be a goad idea to give Sullivan a chance to see what he can do. He wants to remain in Indianapolis, and is willing to make a special effort to do what he can for the success of the team. It is not likely that he could go in and play the position like an old-timer at first, but a week's trial would settle the question. There will probably be a protest on all sides if he is released, and while Manager Glasscock has not fully decided what he will do, it is quite likely that Sullivan will be on first base to-morrow afternoon. If he is a success he will remain there permanently, but if he fails, of course, the club does not need him.

A Great Day Thursday. Having secured the consent of the League, the management has arranged to play two championship games on Thursday of this week, when the Cleveland team will be here. The first will be played at 10 o'clock in the morning and the second at the usual time in the afternoon. Special arrangements for the accommodation of all those who may want to see the games have been made. Two thousand extra seats will be put in and a diagram of the grand stand will be at the Big Four ticket office Tuesday morning, when seats may be reserved. Those holding season tickets are requested to call at the place named and secure reserves, otherwise they will have to take their chances of getting seats. Those who have had numbers marked off for the season, will, of couse, be entitled to them. The time for the games has been arranged so as to enable everybody to see the parade.

A movement is already on foot to form a new League, in 1890, with teams located in Albany, Troy, Utica, Oswego, Auburn, Canandaigua and Binghamton. Each club's salary limit will be $900 a month. The Detroit Free Press thinks that Shreve

There is a chance that Stagg, the famous Yale College pitcher, will pitch for the Orange club hereafter. If so, there will be a sturdy fight for the amateur championship, which early in the sea-son seemed to be at the mercy of the Staten Isl-and Athletic club team.

Toronto and Cleveland played the two longest innings this season. The former, in a game with the Toledos, made sixteen runs in one inning, and the Clevelands scored fourteen against the Washingtons. In the International League game thirty-two hits were made off Cushman in that memorable contest, and Sullivan was pounded for nine hits, including two triples and a double. Three went to base on balls, two wild pitches and one error was made.

NNW YORK, Aug. 17.—Maud S. is to make an effort to smash her, as yet, unbeaten record of 2:0834 over a mile, which she accomplished at Cleveland in 1885. "Maud has been sent to my farm at Tarrytown." said Robert Bonner, owner of the mare, "and will at once be put into active work for her trial. During the season she has done little or no work, mainly on account of John Murphy's illness and death. You will understand that I feel his loss deeply. He was honest, trustworthy and manly, and thoroughly understood Maud. I have not yet decided who shall drive her in the actual trial. Neither can I say when the run will be made, but the date will probably fall in the latter part of September.

ARRANGING FOR THE PRIMARIES.

The Republican City Central Committee Appoints a Time and Places for Them.

The Republican city central committee. which has been in control of the party's local management for the last two years, met last night in the Indianapolis Republican Club rooms. The meeting was unusually well attended, and the enthusiasm manifested was remarked upon by older politicians present as being somewhat remarkable for this time of the year. Especially were the younger party workers out, and the whole proceedings of the even-ing bore the mark of caution and an effort to arrange for every detail in the work that

Early in the evening the question of holding primaries for the purpose of selecting a committeeman and nominating candidates for Conneil was taken up, and after along discussion the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That all ward primaries be held on Tuesday evening, Aug. 27, at 8 o'clock, for the for the City Council as far as practicable, and that in wards where day primaries are desired such requests are to be passed upon and approved by the executive committee. All such requests must be made to and decided by the executive committee on Wednesday evening, 21st inst., at 8 o'clock, in the rooms of the Indianapolis Republican Club. In all wards where a citizen or a committeeman desires the selection of a councilman to be made at a time separate and distinct from that at which the ward committeemen are to be chosen, such requests must be made to the executive committee on or before next Wednesday night.

The new city central committee will meet in the Indianapolis Republican Club rooms on Wednesday evening, Aug. 28, for the transaction of any business that may be necessary, and for permanent organization. The committee last night insisted that the greatest care must be exercised in holding the ward primaries, and, lest some misunderstanding might arise, the secre-tary was furnished with a list of the places where such will be held. The following is the list of voting places, so far as it is completed, by wards:

First Ward-Southwest corner of Home and Columbia avenues. Second Ward-No. 9 reel-house, Ash and Sev-

NATURAL-GAS OPERATIONS.

The Mayor Reserves His Decision in the Trust Suit-Board Ripple Stock Sold.

Mayor Denny will decide the Trust case, now pending in his court, next Tuesday. He is ready now, he says, to do it, but W. P. Fishback, attorney for the company, has asked him to wait for some authorities which he desires to quote. "The whole case hinges," said the Mayor yesterday, to a Journal reporter, "on the construction to be put on the word 'willful.' The ordinance says very distinctly that any willful violator of its provisions shall be subject to penalty, and Mr. Fishback says that when a corporation is financially embarrassed and is thereby compelled to violate its contract, that violation is not a willful one."

"Will that point hold good in law?" "I hardly care to answer that question, for it would involve the whole case at hand. I will say, however, that it would be a very dangerous rule to follow in general. There are some features that enter into the case which I fail to exactly understand. For example, the company claims that at the expiration of the sixty days' notice on Hoyt avenue, it had but $10,000 in its treasury, and that the extensions would cost $22,000. I find that at that very time it was investing about $25,000 in sinking new wells north of here, and about $100,000 in making the proper connections to its main lines. What I fail to see is how the company could get $125,000 for new wells and connecting lines and could not wells, and connecting lines, and could not secure $22,000 for local extensions."

While attorney Fishback was thus asking a suspension of judgment, as it were. for a day or two, a natural-gas deal of some importance was being consummated relative to the property held by the syndicate that succeeded the old Broad Ripple company. It has been regarded only a matter of time when the syndicate would transfer its holding to whomsoever would buy. The gentlemen forming it had no inclination whatever to operate the plant; their only purpose in purchasing it was to protect the claim they held against the old company. Wescott's mortgage was, moreover, a burden, and the interest on that would necessitate a larger investment than they contemplated, if they were called upon to pay it for any great length of time. On the first of next month an interest payment of $3,500 is due, and its nearness urged the syndicate take some definite action as to goin or letting go. Friday the directors of the syndicate, or rather, Ripple company, met with all stock represented, when it was decided to sell. The Consumers' Trust and Indianapolis Natural-gas companies were advised of the Ripple's readiness to receive

Yesterday morning the directors met again, and two large envelopes were placed before them. Mr. Gallup, whose bank came into the syndicate on account of its judgment claim against the old Broad Ripple, presided. The first envelope opened contained a bid of Edward Hawkins, ex-United States marshal, secretary of the Indiana School-book Company, and a director in the Ripple. He acquired the latter position a few weeks ago by purchasing some stock of Mr. McElwaine, who also was a director of the syndicate of the creditors. Mr. Hawkins proposed to buy this stock of the syndicate at par paying there. stock of the syndicate at par, paying therefor $54,000, in Consumers' Trust certificates. As the Oil-well and Supply Company, as well as one or two other companies represented in the Ripple syndicate, already held large amounts of the certificates. no objection was made to this form of payment, especially when the other envelope was opened and revealed to the directors that the Indianapolis Natural Gas Com-pany had no desire to bid. The deal was soon closed and Edward Hawkins, presumably representing the Consumers' Trust, became the owner of the Broad Ripple stock held by the direct-ors with a thirty days' option on all that of the smaller stockholders. During the aft-ernoon the Eastern gentlemen, Mr. Matthewson, Mr. Boyce and others interested were put in possession of their share of the certificates. It is understood that under this deal the purchaser assumes all liabilities of the old and new Ripple companies. One item of indebtedness is the $4,000 judgment due Hanway, another the $125,000 Wescott mortgage, and the third the interest due thereon Sept. 1. All told, for $54,000 Trust certificates Mr. Hawkins has purchased for his principal the stock of the Ripple company and $132,500 indebtedness. With the $54,000 the total obligation created by this deal is $186,500.

At 10 o'clock last night a reporter called at the Bates House to interview Mr. Boyce. That gentleman had retired for the night, leaving orders at the office that he was not to be disturbed, as he intended to leave at an early hour. The clerk at the desk vouchsafed the further information that Mr. Boyce told him that he had finished his business here and would return home for a permanent stay. Mr. Boyce has therefore gone to Pittsburg, Pa., and unless some new complication should arise in connection with the Broad Ripple plant, is not likely to return to Indianapolis at an early day. The other Eastern gentlemen left on early evening trains.

CALLS FOR BECKTOLD'S BOOKS. A Superintendent Proposes to Keep a Supply

on Hand for Pupils in Private Schools. Requisitions were received yesterday for the Becktold-Williams books from the counties of Fulton, Jefferson, Vanderburg, Daviess, Putnam and Spencer. From all except the county of Jefferson the orders were for townships, but that one was large, being for the entire county. The call was for readers: first, 1.030; second, 840; third, 925; fourth, 1,100; fifth, 1,200; geographies, elementary, 1,565; complete, 2,555; arithmetics, elementary, 1,595; complete, 2,495. This differs from the requisitions generally received, as it calls for the greater number in the more advanced and highest priced books. This superintendent, W. M. Amsden, makes another innovation in ordering, in addition to the foregoing, one hnudred each of the five kinds of copybooks and one hundred each all kinds of readers, geographies and arthmetics which he states are "for the superintendent's office." This part of the requisition is supposed to be under the pro-viso in the law which says, that any patron or pupil of any school or schools, other than the public schools, or any child between the ages of 6 and 21 years, or the parent, guardian, or teacher of such child, shall have the right to purchase the books at the prices named in the law, on the payment of the cash price to the superintendent of any county. The law makes it the duty of the superintendent to make requisition upon the contractor for such books under such circumstances. Killed by a Fly-Wheel. William Talge, of No. 37 Lambeth street, yesterday morning, at Carter's saw-mill, corner of Alvord street and Lincoln avenue, was caught in the belt of a fly-wheel and instantly killed. His body was taken to Kregelo's.

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and conics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most deli-cate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an

in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much." "We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."- O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A.

Wells, Druggist. "My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."-A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.
